M. U. Felder – Classic Shooting

It is said that the sport of shooting at flying targets “on the wing” originated somewhere in France in the seventeenth century. Since that time, both the weapons and the style have been refined and perfected. Use of the shotgun both for shooting and for sport became an established part of country life, along with high-tea at five o'clock and the evening cigar beside the fire. In cooperation with Markus U. Felder from Classic Shooting we are organizing the following courses:

- 3 nights, including our lavish breakfast buffet
- Gourmet Dine Around half board: choose daily from a six-course, à la carte dinner at our elegant Grand Restaurant, or dine more informally at our rustic Chesa al Parc Engadine-style restaurant or our own pizzeria
- Classic shooting course – Learn in 2 days with several lessons the noble art of shooting
- 1 relaxing hydro bath
